BANDITS

London, Oct. 25.-Mr D. R. Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies. disclosed tonight that 225 people had been killed by bandits in Malaya since

Of these, 17 were Europeans, 169 Chinese, 25 Malays, seven Indians, two Javanese and three Sakola. Of 430 bandits killed and captured, 407 were Chinese, mostly immigrants from China.

The Communists had failed to disrupt the economic life of the country, or to secure the people's support, Mr Recs-Williams said. The vast majority of the people opposed the Communists, particularly the Malays, over 20,000 of whom had joined the newly-raised police as special constables, and over 6,500 as auxiliary constables. One of the tragedles of the terrorist attempt to seize power was that the heavy expenditure on military and police requirements had limited progressive measures planned by the Government, Mr Recs-Williams said.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK

At the moment the terrorists were 'concentrating their attacks on communications, since so many of their troops' headquarters had been disperced, he added.

Remarking that little had been written on the constructive steps taken to build up Malayan economy and to raise the standard of living, Mr Rees-Williams said that the Liberty rubber production in 1946 was 403,700 tons, while 400,500 had been produced in the first seven months of this year.

The production of tin so far this Portland, Oct. 25.—Verdicts of year was 4,558 tons, compared with "Death by misadventure" 340,000 tons compared with 257,000 Clough, aged 18, of Oxford, Naval tons in 1946.

to speculations on the long-term prospects of her recovery. Until these figures were known it was necessary to assume that the current was still running heavily against Britain. The steady expansion of exports was partly offset by a continued rise in the prices of primary materials which form the bulk of British imports. Little progress seemed to have been made since the start of the year with the urgent job

of reducing the overseas deficit.

This belief was reinforced by a continued loss of gold. It has been a pleasant surprise to be told by the Chancellor of the Exchequer that things have improved to a point where no

further substantial gold losses are expected this year. The main reasons for this change are stated

in bald figures in the White Paper on the U.K. balance of payment. In the first place there has been a 50 percent reduction in Government expenditure overseas, largely as a result of the winding up of wartime and relief

Britain's Mercantile Marine has

has also been a sharp reduction in the amount of money which

It is obvious that the general tightening, up of inessential expenditure after the convertibility

fruit this year. For the first time

SETTLEWENT FIND

All Efforts At Conciliation Abandoned By Council

Paris, Oct. 25.—Mr Andrei Vyshinsky, leader of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, today vetoed the United Nations Security Council's compromise proposal for the settlement of the Berlin crisis. It was the 27th time the Russians used the veto power to kill a Council resolution and a Council action.

The Western Powers abandoned all efforts to reach a settlement within the United Nations with Russia on the Berlin crisis. Risking a Soviet vote, they decided after a long series of secret talks to put the compromise formula of the six "neutral" members of the Security Council to a vote at once.

Colombia's Roberto Urdaneta Arbelaez, who attended the meeting, said "that all efforts at conciliation have been abandoned because of the intransigent attitude of the Russians."

He predicted that the Russians would veto the compromise formula and that the final Security Council vote would be nine to two with Russia and the Ukraine voting against.

DRAMATIC MEETINGS

The rejection of Mr Vyshinsky's offer to raise the Berlin blockade stages" instead of unconditionally and at once, came at series of hectic and dramatic secret meetings while hundreds waited in the United Nations auditorim more than two hours for the postponed Council meeting.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, pledged his support of the compromise formula and described It as the way for assuring a settle-

Britain Nationalise Steel Industry

Big Conflict Over Bill Expected

London. Oct. 25. - King George VI will formally notify Britain's iron and steel men that the Labour Government intends to nationalise their record-breaking industry when he opens the fifth and longest session of the present Parliament tomorrow, it was authoritatively learned.

The "Battle of Steel" Bill to take" the industry out of the hands of private enterprise and place it under national ownership and control is likely to be introduced in the House of Commons by the end of the week.

Three days are expected to be spent on the second reading of the debate. The committee stage may go on for months. ONE BILL A WEEK

Visiting Dominion statesmen, still in London from the recentlyconcluded Commonwealth Prime Ministers' : Conference, may be present at Westminster when the King, wearing his Parliamentary robes and the Crown, opens the new session with traditional prewar ceremony and pageantry.

Parliament will have to work at an estimated rate of one Bill a week to cope with the great amount of business in the coming 14-month long session. Almost 20 major Bills will be presented, but with the addition of routine Bills, the total may be trebled.

Chief interest lies in the Iron and Steel Bill, which is certain to be the centre of violent controversy. The Labour Party got in the first blow with the publication of a 15page, two-penny pamphlet stating its case for nationalisation and entitled: "British Steel at Britain's

BOMB SAYS WALLACE

Urges Diversion For Peaceful Means

Jersey City, New Jersey, Oct. 25.-Mr Henry A. Wallace, in his major campaign speech on atomic energy, demanded today that the atomic bomb be outlawed and the secrecy veiling peaceful atomic development be lifted.

In a broadenst, Mr Wallace urged that atomic energy be developed for peace because limiting atomic power to the atom bomb "Is like limiting the use of electric power to the eletrie chair".

"We know this elemental energy can be the greatest blessing in the history of mankind and we say America, Russia and all other nations must renounce, through the United Nations, the use of the atom bomb and all weapons of mass destruction."

He urged that atomic energy be developed on a non-profit basis as a public trust and not be turned over to private business to be "exploited for corporation profits."

DEMANDS GOOD FAITH

"We demand good faith in public ownership of atomic energy for the full development of its peacetime We demand that use of this new power for dangerous war provocation be stopped. We demand that secrecy in atomic development be abandoned except in technical knowhow in making weapons and that, in the interests of free people, science be freed from military and big business control."

Mr Wallaco charged that the men who ran the United States feared Russin because they feared that peacetime competition with Russia would force them to give up their system of "monopoly of enterprise and giant profits."

"They fear their swollen war profits will not continue, so they try to force wartime economy on peacetime America. They fear the effect on their investments of atomic energy developed for peace, so they try to control it and divert it to military use."

Mr Wallace attacked his political opponents for their stands on atomic energy and their "diplomacy of doom and strategy of disaster."-United Press.

Woodcock Should Four In A Row On One Card

London, Oct. 25.—Although Lee Savold has been named as the next opponent for Britain's heavyweight champion, Bruce Woodcock, it does not lessen the interest in a suggestion made by the publication, "Boxing News."

Realising the concern being shown in providing worthy opponents for Woodcock if he is to rise to that pinnacle from which he can challenge for world honours, the paper suggests that he meets several men on the same night.

OMCKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Careful Analysis Nets Overtrick

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

EXPERT tournament players come L from all walks of life. Some of them spend most of their time playing bridge, while others are business or professional men who have much less time to play.

For instance, Alexander Weiss, of New York City, is kept pretty busy between his mail order business and his grandson. Nevertheless, he found time to play in the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament this year and won the trophy.

Welss sent me an interesting hand | which I am giving you today. He probably drink more tea than any won the opening lead of the five of other people? spades with the king, then led a small heart to dummy's king, intending to play back a small heart and pass it. However, when West played the queen. Weiss went up with the are and picked up the whole

The spade bid by East, and the fact that he had held three hearts, led Weiss to the conclusion that East could not have many clubs. He took another round of hearts, then cashed the ace and king of clubs, discarding a small diamond from his own hand. Now he led the jack of clubs from dummy, and when West did not cover, Weiss discarded his other small diamond.

This gave him seven-odd for a top score on the board.

Increased Malayan production is the major depressing feature. Malay production last month was the second largest this year and 15 per-cent above August. The October output estimate is quite large, dis-sipating the midsummer expectations of a sharp drop in Malay output because of the political disturbances. The continued large output is attributed in a large part to the fact that plantation managers are staying

Signs Of Changing U.S. Policy

Paris, Oct. 25.—Domestic American politics kicked up fresh clouds of confusion around the Palestine issue in the United Nations today, threatening to kill the controversial Bernadotte plan for a revised Holy Land partition.

The flareup between President Truman and the Presidential Republican candidate, Mr Thomas E. Dewey, over Palestine policy came just as the American diplomats here thought they had the issue well buried until after the presidential elections.

Many United Nations diplomats interpreted the latest statements by the President and Mr Dewey as contradictory.

A few days before the Assembly ToDominion convened, the United States Secretary of State, Mr George Marshall announced that the United States favoured the socalled Bernadotte plan as a "basis" for settlement.

Representatives of Israel, buslly nghting the Bernadotte proposal behind the scenes of the General Assembly, rejoiced today at the news of President Truman's statement "the fact that the United States official policy is against the mollification of Israel's territory without Israel's consent, is of far reaching dropped the word "British" beimportance," an official Israeli state-

Mr John Foster Dulles, who has been mentioned as the likely Secretary of State if Mr Dewey wins the Presidency, withheld his approval from the Bernadotte plan when the , delogation of which he is a member adopted it as a basis for its policy in the impending Palestine

REBELS' ORGY OF MURDER IN KOREAN TOWN Sunchon's Two Days Of Terror

Sunchon, Korea, Oct. 25.—Bloodspattered Sunchon was dark and silent tonight save for an occasional gunshot. For two days rebels, up from Yosu, ruled the city with murder and brutality. An estimated 600 persons were killed in its capture by the Communist-led rebels, their two-day rule and its recapture by loyal Korean troops. At least 22 men have been executed by Loyalists and police for siding with the rebels. The insurgents staged a reign of terror for the two days, according to U.S. Army Lieutenants Gordan D. Mohr and Stewart Greenbaum. They were military advisers to the Korcan Army's 14th Regiment, which Greenbaum said "went crazy" at Yosu on Wednesday and started the insurrection which flashed through this South Korean area.
